THE BLOODY SWEAT.

An eminent English physician, Dr

He dissects "The Bloody Sweat," and "Piercing of the Heart." The Methodist Quarterly Review, in reviewing the work, furnishes some historical illustrations on the bloody sweat:

First, in relation to the bloody sweat as one of the corporeal effects of intense emotion. The author, in brief, gives the rationale of this phenomenon; and then cites a number of cases which it actually occurred—

"Perspiration, sensible and insensible, takes place from the mouths of regularly organized tubes, which perforate the skin in all parts of the body, terminating in blind extremities internally, and by innumerable orifices on the outer surface. These tubes are surrounded by a network of minute vessels, penetrated by the ultimate ramifications of arteries, which, according to the force of the local circulation, depending chiefly on that of the heart, discharge either the watery parts of the blood in a state of vapour, por, its greatest ingredients in the form of a glutinous liquid, or, extreme cases, the entire blood itself. The influence of the invigorating passions, more especially in exciting an increased flow of blood to the skin, is familiarly illustrated by the process of blushing, either from shame or anger, for, during this state, the heart beats strongly, the surface of the body becomes hot, and, if the emotion is very powerful, breaks out in a warm and copious perspiration, the first step toward a bleed-

The following instances of diapedesis, or sweating of blood, show that the auluer's philosophy is not without its accompanying facts. The brevity required of us will permit only a condensed statement of a few of the instances cited by him.

An Italian officer, in 1855, threat-ned with a public execution," was so agitated at the prospect of an ignominious death, that he sweated blood from every part of the body."

A young Florentine, unjustly ordered to be put to death by Pope Sixtus V, when led to execution, through excess of grief, was observed to shed bloody tears, and to discharge blood instead of sweat from his whole body—a circumstance which may be regarded as certain proof that Nature condemned the severity of a sentence so cruelly hastened, and invoked vengeance against the magistrate himself, as therein guilty of murder.

In the Ep'emerides, it is stated that "a young boy, having taken part in a crime for which two of his elder brothers were hanged, was exposed to public view under the gallows on which they were executed, and was there observed to sweat blood from his whole body."

Other instances of the same kind also are on record. Shenck gives the case of a "nun who fell into the hands of soldiers; and, on seeing herself encompassed with swords and daggers threatening instant death, was so terrified and agitated that she discharged blood from every part of her body, and died of hemorrhage in the sight of her assailants." The case of a sailor is also given who "was so alarmed by a

Catherine Merline, of Chamberg, at the age of forty-six, being strong and hale, received a kick from a bullock in the pit of the stomach, which was followed by vomiting blood. This having been suddenly stopped by her medical attendants, the blood made its way through the pores of various parts of her body, the discharge occurring usually twice in twenty-four hours. It was preceded by a prickly sensation, and

The Medico Chirurgical Review for October, 1831, gives the case of a female hysteria, who, when the hysterical paroxysm was protracted, was also subfect to the blood perspiration. And, in his case, she continued, at different times, to be affected with it for three months, when it gave way to local bleeding and strong revalative measures.

But the case of the wretched Charles IX of France is one of the most striking that has yet occurred. The account is thus given by De Monnay: "After the vigor of his youth and the energy of his courage had long struggled against his disease, he was at length reduced by it to his bed at castle of Vincennes, about the 8th of May, 1574. During the last two weeks of his life his constitution made strange efforts. He was affected with spasms and convulsions of extreme violence. He tossed and agitated himself continually, and his blood gushed from all the outlets of his body, even from the pores of his skin; so that, on one occasion, he was found bathed in a bloody sweat."

NO PAPER TO-MORROW.—To-day being Thanksgiving and a legal holiday, we shall issue no paper from our office on Friday. The Publishing Office on Thames Street will be closed for business during to-day.

THANKSGIVING.

To-day we are called upon to honor and reverence the time-honored festival established by our forefathers and observed by their descendants down to the present day. To thank God for past and present mercies and implore his aid for time to come. To eat turkeys and fowls, and rejoice in the presence of friends gathered from afar. To see to it that those whose labors are not well stocked are not without the means of observing the day in a suitable manner. Everybody has cause for thankfulness. If any question this, let them look back upon the meritorious of the past year; and if they have been unfortunate, let them look around them and see how many of their neighbors have fared worse than they; and think that but for the mercy of God their own condition would have been much worse than it is. But the Republicans above all men have reason to be thankful to God who has given them the victory. And the Democrats, that it is no worse with them than it is: the Douglasites that Breck was not elected, and the Breckites that Dug was defeated,—and all, that so good a man as Abraham Lincoln has been raised to the Presidential chair; thankful that it was not Joe Lane, whose administration would, for reckless-ness, have shaded the South as cause for thankfulness at their almost miraculous escape from the terrible consequences that at one time threatened them from the formidable invasion of John Brown and his score of men.

Let us all rejoice and be glad, and for one day, at least, turn sorrow and sighing out of doors.

LET HER SLIDE.

If there is any Constitutional method of getting South Carolina out of the Union, we say let her go—drop her like a hot potato. She has always been a grumbling, snarling customer, ever since the confederacy of States was formed, threatening to clear out whenever things have not gone just to suit her. In family matters we have heard it said that "there must always be one black sheep in the flock," and South Carolina stands in that relation toward her sister States. And now we say, (and we think we speak the sentiments of almost the entire North) if South Carolina thinks she is big enough to take care of herself and wants to make the experiment, let her go out and try it. If on "sotting up the books" it shall be found that there is a balance due her, let her take it and clear out. This seems to be the easiest, cheapest, and most peaceable method of adjusting the matter.

But the constitutionality of the measure, it seems, is a question yet to be settled, unless the hot-blooded citizens of the State put that entirely out of the question by their precipitate action. There is danger that if one or more of the disaffected States are now suffered to withdraw without opposition from the other members of the confederacy, a precedent will be established which in future years may be exceedingly inconvenient and annoying, not to say ruinous, to the interests of the Republic. A door will be opened which it will be difficult shutting; and any and every State which may at any time feel itself aggrieved; will seek redress by taking itself out of the concern. The effect of such a state of things upon the perpetuity of our institutions it is not difficult to foresee.

But, in our opinion, too much prominence has been given to this hair-brained splurge of one of the smallest States of the Union. It is with communities as with individuals—when they set out as if the Old Nick was in them, just let them become aware that public attention is in any degree drawn toward them, and to precisely that extent will they feel inspired to continue in their perverseness; whereas if they were left entirely alone, the ridiculousness of their position would force itself upon their minds and they would recede. If not, it would be time enough to interpose arguments either persuasive or otherwise, for their pacification. As it is now, it is very much as if an army with wooden guns and tin swords such as are sold in toy shops, was menacing our borders, and the press and telegraph should commence at once to note their movements and proclaim them to the world. The chance would be that the wooden guns and tin swords would be exchanged for weapons more effective. What has South Carolina done thus far, but mount cockades, raise Palmetto flags, and talk? When she really starts to go out of the Union, if she has a right to leave, let her go; if not, let that same Federal arm of which we hear and read so much, reach forth quietly and pull her back.

The Resignation of Col. Turner.

We publish, this morning, a letter from Col. C. W. Turner, commandant of the Newport Artillery Company, to Major Geo. W. Tew, his second in command, and through him to the members of the company tendering his resignation. Col. Turner has for ten years been an active member of the Artillery Company, during which time he has risen from the ranks to the honorable position which he now, from private reasons, finds it necessary to resign. His resignation will be received with regret by his companions in arms, for although they are assured that he will ever retain an interest and work for the welfare of a company for which he feels the highest esteem, yet, although he does not leave them entirely, but remains in the capacity of a private member, they can but feel his absence from a position the duties of which he has shown himself to be so eminently qualified to fulfill both to the satisfaction of the corps and a community who take universal interest and pride in their honorable acquirements in private life and perfection of military accomplishments.

It is a satisfaction to us, however, as it undoubtedly will be to our readers, to find that the resignation of Col. Turner's resignation will probably be filled by our friend Major Geo. W. Tew, an officer possessing the respect and confidence of his associates, and also that of the entire community in which he resides. Major Tew is a thorough soldier, and we imagine that through his influence and popularity those reforms in military tactics which have been in a great measure instituted by the retiring Colonel will be carried on to still further perfection. The addition of new members during the past few years, has influenced for the better both the character and social position of a company whose antecedents are unquestionably as honorable as they are ancient. We hope and believe that there will still be a continual influx of our young and enterprising citizens to the veteran corps, now or soon to be, under the command of our popular WIDE AWAKE commandant.

HEADQUARTERS ARTILLERY COMPANY, NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 25th, 1860.

MAT. GEORGE W. TEW:

SIR:—I have the honor to offer my resignation as Colonel Commanding the Artillery Company, as I have made up my mind decidedly in regard to the propriety of this step. I ask that the Company may accept it at once, in order that a new election of officers may take place as soon as the Commander in Chief shall have given his approval.

And in leaving this position of responsibility and honor, justice to myself and the Company demands an acknowledgment of the met by the members of the Company, as well as the assistance I have voluntarily received in carrying out my plans for the advancement of the best interests of the Corps, from both officers and men.

For ten years I have been a member of the Company, and in that time have seen many changes; some of them very discouraging, threatening its prosperity, almost its existence, but from the conservatism and the honesty of the majority of its members it has always come out right.

The old Corps is now slowly and surely improving, and the administration of its affairs require (as they always did) perfect calmness and much conservatism; cherish in your body the love for the old Corps and its conservatism, as well as the provisions of a Charter under which it has flourished 121 years.

You, sir, and the gentlemen with whom I have so long associated, will accept assurances of my personal regard, and of my willingness to further to the extent of my ability the success of an organization which I love and which I leave with regret.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Your Obedt Servt.,
CHARLES W. TURNER.

Court of Justices.

TURNER J.

TUESDAY, Nov. 27.

The only case on trial was the State vs. Simon Radican for disturbing Mr. Payne's Singing School in Levin Street on the evening of the 16th inst. The court found him guilty, but in consideration that he was a small boy, and being the first offence of the kind which has been brought before this Court he was fined only one dollar and costs, amounting in all to $12 1/2.

SHIPPED HER MOURNING.—The Light Ship stationed at Brenton's Reef left her moorings Tuesday night and came into Newport, anchoring in the inner harbor. Intelligence came in during Tuesday evening that she had drifted from her anchorage, and was fast against the cliffs, and the Perry got up steam and went out to her assistance. She found her with one anchor gone, and dragging towards the cliffs with the other. She was rescued from her perilous position and brought in as above stated, arriving about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. She will be supplied with a new anchor and resume her place at the reef at once.

We are requested by the Collector to say that the Custom House will be closed to-day.

The Annual Meeting of the Newport City Temperance Society will be held at the Methodist Chapel this afternoon Thursday Nov. 29 at 8 o'clock.

ADVERTISEMENTS NEW THIS MORNING.

LATEST NEWS.

The Political Crisis.
New York, Nov. 28.—The Times Washington correspondent says several leading Republicans are in consultation with prominent Southerners. One Southern proposition seeming to meet with favor was, that Lincoln should disavow secession by announcing his Cabinet as soon as the electoral vote was cast.

Scott, of Virginia, Graham, of North Carolina, and Sharkey, of Mississippi, were spoken of in connection with the Cabinet. It is also said that on the opening of Congress, influential Republicans will offer resolutions declaring the rights of the several States, in terms that ought to be satisfactory to every Union-loving Southerner, with the emphatic declaration that the Republican party is willing to embody this bill of rights in the Constitution.

From Washington.
Washington, Nov. 28.—The Census Bureau has returns from all the States, including Carolina, in a few scattered districts. Some are withheld for correction. The returns are in earlier than ever before, but not in season for communication to Congress at the commencement of the session.

The steamer Brooklyn is daily expected at Norfolk with the Chiriqui Commissioners. Senator Davis is here.

Arrest of Burglars.

New York, 28th.—Three burglars were arrested yesterday morning in a store on Chambers street, after a desperate conflict, in which officer Martin, it is feared, was fatally injured.

Diplomatic Rupture with Peru.

By the arrival of the steamer "Peru," we have important news from Peru. Diplomatic relations are suspended between that Government and the United States, by the withdrawal of our minister, Hon. J. Randolph Clay. He received his passports from President Castilla, and was to leave Callao about the 12th inst., in the U. S. steam screw steamer Wyoming. The difficulties which have arisen grow out of a demand by Mr. Clay for the immediate payment of the American claims for the seizure and confiscation of the ships Georgiana and Lizzie Thompson, which the Peruvian Government refused to accede to. President Castilla has published a circular to the diplomatic corps residing at Lima, giving his version of the difficulty, laying all the blame upon the American Government. A probable war between Peru and Bolivia is spoken of as a crisis that cannot be much longer postponed.

PROCLAMATION:

By his Excellency WILLIAM SPRAGUE, Governor of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations.

In accordance with long established usage, and by authority of law, I, WILLIAM SPRAGUE, Governor of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, do hereby appoint THURSDAY, the twenty-ninth day of November next, as a day of public thanksgiving to ALMIGHTY GOD. And I do hereby earnestly recommend to the people of this State that on that day they should abstain from their usual labors, and assemble in their respective places of worship with offerings of praise and gratitude to the RULER AND GOVERNOR OF THE UNIVERSE, for the innumerable blessings and benefits which He has vouchsafed to our State and nation during the past year: that our soil has yielded so abundantly of the fruits of the earth: that our industrial pursuits have been so highly prospered, that our institutions—educational, religious, benevolent, and civil, have continued to flourish, and to bestow increased benefits on our people: that as a nation, we have been protected from domestic feuds and foreign wars, and continue at peace, and in harmony and friendship with all foreign powers: that the union of the States has been preserved, which under God, is the ark of our political safety the guaranty of peace and prosperity, our arm of strength and highest glory as a nation: that we continue in the enjoyment of all our constitutional rights as a free and independent people: that our citizens continue to appreciate, with increasing attachment, the inestimable value of our political organization, which, while it confers inalienable blessings on the native-born citizen, offers a home and a welcome to all who seek our shores from foreign climes, and a refuge for those who flee from persecution and oppression.

May the GREAT ARBITER of nations have in His holy keeping, and continue to shower His blessings upon us.

Given under my hand and the seal of the State, at the city of Providence, this 29th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty, and of Independence the eighty-fifth.

WM. SPRAGUE.
By his Excellency the Governor:
JOHN R. BARTLETT, Secretary of State.

CAUTION TO MARRIED OR SINGLE LADIES.

On account of the deception used by pretenders to the sale of medicines for the cure of females, it is requisite for ladies to use caution in the purchase of them. Taking this view of the case, Dr. Cudworth, No. 3 Orange street, Providence R. I., offers his medicine to the public as the best ever used for females. His Drops and Pills for Suppression or Irregularities, are unsurpassed by any offered to the public. They have never failed in one single case, and can be warranted to perform perfect and permanent cures in the most obstinate cases. His medicines for all other complaints, also stand pre-eminent for their success in curing all who use them.

In the treatment of those complaints peculiar to females Dr. C. acknowledges no superior, and in all cases will warrant a perfect cure from disease or trouble. Ladies seeking medical assistance will do well to consult Dr. Cudworth, No. 3 Orange street, before calling elsewhere.

N. B.—Ladies can consult Dr. C. by letter, stating symptoms, by addressing as above, and have medicines sent secure from observation.

Office open day and evening.

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1861.

PROSPECTUS.

The XXth volume of the WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced with the issue of Sept. 1. During the past year the Tribune has been obliged to devote quite a large proportion of its space to Politics, but we shall now be able to forego Political discussion almost entirely, for months if not for years, and devote nearly all our columns to subjects of less interest, but more abiding interest. Among these, we mean to pay special attention to:

I. EDUCATION.—The whole subject of Education, both Popular and General, will be discussed in our columns throughout the year 1861, and we hope to elicit in that discussion some of the profoundest thinkers and the ablest instructors in our country. It is at once our hope and our resolve that the cause of Education of THE TRIBUNE in its behalf during the year 1861.

II. AGRICULTURE.—We have been compelled to restrict our elucidations of this great interest throughout 1860, and shall endeavor to atone therefor in 1861. Whatever discovery, deduction, demonstration, is calculated to render the reward of labor devoted to cultivation more ample or more certain, shall receive prompt and full attention.

III. MANUFACTURES, &c.—We hail every invention or enterprise whereby American Capital and Labor are attracted to and advantageously employed in any department of Manufacturing or Mechanical Industry as a real contribution to the public weal, insuring ampler, steadier, more convenient, more remunerative markets to the Farmer, with fuller employment and better wages to the Laborer. The progress of Mining, Iron-Making, Steel-Making, Cloth-Weaving, &c., in our country and the world, shall be watched and reported by us with an earnest and active sympathy.

IV. FOREIGN AFFAIRS.—We employ the best correspondents in London, Paris, Turin, Berlin, and other European Capitals, to transmit us early and accurate advices of the great changes there silently but certainly preparing. In spite of the pressure of Domestic Politics, our News from the Old World is now varied and ample; but we shall have to render it more perfect during the year 1861.

V. HOME AFFAIRS.—We employ regular paid correspondents in California, at the Isthmus of Darien, in the Rocky Mountain Gold Region, and wherever else they seem requisite. From the more accessible portions of our own country, we derive our information mainly from the multifarious correspondents of the Associated Press, from our exchanges, and the occasional letters of intelligent friends. We aim to print the cheapest general newspaper, with the fullest and most authentic summary of useful intelligence, that is anywhere afforded. Hoping to "make each day a little better," and print a better and better paper from year to year, as our means are steadily enlarged through the generous co-operation of our many well-wishers, we solicit, and shall labor to deserve, a continuance of public favor.
